Dear Hiring Managers,

Hello, I am Tommy and I believe I am a great candidate for your internship. I am currently researching for Professor Leilani Gilpin on large language models. Currently, we are benching marking modern Rag models against the custom model we are creating. Furthermore, I am a backend developer for Mergen. In the past, I have worked on a research project with Professor Gilpin doing explanatory data analysis on autonomous vehicle accidents. Additionally, I have led and contributed to various projects using React(web apps) or Python (ML).

I would be a great addition to your intern team as I learn fast and have various team experiences in different roles, learning many needed skills for this role. Thank you and have a great day!

Sincerely,

Tommy Chen
